CHAPTER I. ACCREDITED SPECIALIZED MASTER'S DEGREES

Article 4. Admission to accredited university tuition for specialized Master's Degrees

1. For admission to the Master's Degree the student is required to comply with the legal admission requirements contained in Official Decree 822/2011:
 - The possession of an official Spanish Bachelor's degree or equivalent is a condition for access to a University Master's degree, or, where applicable, the holding of another University Master's degree, or degrees at the same level as the Spanish Bachelor's or Master's degree issued by universities and higher education institutions in an EHEA country that allow access to Master's level studies in that country.
 - Similarly, access to a Master's Degree in the Spanish university system may be granted to persons holding degrees from educational systems that do not form part of the EHEA, where these are equivalent to a Bachelor's Degree, without the need for official recognition of the degree, but with verification by the university of the level of training involved, provided that in the country where the degree was issued that degree allows access to postgraduate university studies. Under no circumstances will access via this route imply the validation of the previous degree held by the interested party, or its recognition for purposes other than that of undertaking the Master's Degree studies.
 - In the case of qualifying degrees, the University may require prior validation of the Bachelor's degree that gives access to the Master's degree.
2. Undergraduate students who have yet to pass their Graduation Project and a maximum of up to 9 ECTS credits may exceptionally be able to access and enroll on a Master's degree, after signing the relevant conditional enrollment document and subject to the specific enrollment conditions, although they may not obtain the Master's degree if they have not first obtained the Bachelor's degree.
3. Nevertheless, if the Master's degree is in Engineering and Architecture, related Bachelor's degree students who have yet to pass their Graduation Project and one or more subjects, which in no case may jointly (GP and subjects) exceed 30 ECTS credits, may access and enroll, after signing the relevant conditional enrollment document and subject to the specific enrollment conditions. They may not obtain the Master's degree if they have not first obtained the Bachelor's degree. Admission and conditional access for Bachelor's degree students related to the Master's degree will only be possible if the academic planning proposed for the syllabus has received a favorable report from the competent quality agency.
4. Students may be admitted to any accredited university Master's Degree program whether scientifically linked or not to their university curriculum. Admission will be carried out by the School responsible for each program.
5. The criteria used to assess merit shall be as follows:
 - Previous training and academic transcript.
 - Other studies or tasks relating to the chosen program.
 - Knowledge of languages.
 - Other merits.
6. In any event, each Master's Degree program may set their own admission criteria and may establish the academic achievements held prior to the Master's Degree that are required for admission or that complement the program.

Article 5. Organization of accredited university tuition for specialized Master's Degrees.

1. The Master's Degree tuition is structured into courses and/or modules that together comprise each Degree Program and that may be Degree Requirements or Required Electives. The various courses or modules are structured into ECTS Credits.

2. To establish the overall workload of the student it is understood that one ECTS Credit is equivalent to 25 hours of study.

3. The specialized Master's Degrees are offered under ordinary editions and to respond to the specific academic needs of its students, such as part-time studies, depending on the type of degree program or other circumstance established by the University, programs are offered under extended editions.

- Ordinary Edition Master's Degrees: 60 ECTS Credits with a duration of one year (approximately).
- Extended Edition Master's Degrees: 60 ECTS Credits with a duration of two years (approximately)

2. Students will be assessed on an ongoing basis in the modules/subjects for each master's degree. Each master's degree will determine applicable ongoing assessment criteria and assessment dates.

Feedback and grades for assessable educational activities must be uploaded to the virtual campus within one working week from the day the subject ends.

Grade reports must be uploaded and signed within two working weeks from the day the subject ends.

Exceptions: (i) Online degree courses with on-campus exams. In these cases, the reference date will not be the day of the subject's last class, but the day of the ordinary on-campus exam. (ii) Curricular internships. This subject does not have a "last class" and is therefore delimited by the last day of the degree program. The grade reports for this subject must be uploaded by that day.

3. Master's degrees end with the public defense of a final master's project. Assessment will be carried out by a defense panel in accordance with the "General regulations for graduation projects and final master's projects." Defense panels will be scheduled for specific days. The grade reports must be uploaded and signed within two working weeks from the day of the panel.

The grade reports for all subjects must be uploaded within two weeks from the day the degree ends, except for final master's projects and internships. The director of the master's program is responsible for ensuring compliance with this timeline.

4. If the student does not pass the course or module during the ordinary exam period, a second exam period is made available for re-sits that will take place within two months following the date on which the ordinary or extended editions corresponding to each Master's Degree finalize.
